

Mission

Martikyan Music Center's mission is to give students special music education and to bring together like-minded individuals such as musicians, artists, filmmakers, and writers to collaborate with each other and to create a special artistic environment in the Pasadena community as well as nearby cities in Southern California. The more music education we provide for people and the more we engage their attention in creative aspects of their lives, the better impact we will have in our community!